

PROFILE

I am a 24 year old business process executive currently residing in New York. I graduated from Stokes University and Crackel Academy with a Bachelor's degree and a Master's degree in Business Administration respectively. During those 6 years, I was given an opportunity to learn from world renowned business men and other passionate and experienced individuals within the business industry. It was through this extensive exposure and training that I was able to quickly get my first job as a junior business process analyst at the Merlot Hotel at Downtown New York, I am working as a senior business process analyst at the Baltimore Business Solutions where I initiate, apply, and regulate multiple processes that go in with in the company.
